

TV's Robert opens vet centre

■ TV celebrity Robert Alleyne was the star attraction at the Polden Hills Veterinary Centre open day. The BBC's Dog Borstal star took time out of his schedule to attend the day in Cossington and share his expert advice with dog owners. Pet owners received gift vouchers and children had the chance to uncover interesting finds on a fun-filled tour of the new premises. Pictured above opening the centre are Bridgwater Mayoress Lyn Bussell, Mayor Bill Monteith, Robert Alleyne, and Margaret Walker and John Smith, of the centre. Pictured below are some visitors who attended the open day.
